

THE STAR'S DAILY PICTORIAL PAGE

THE EVENING STAR, WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, JULY 12, 1922.

Anthony P. Bovelto, of 3330 Georgia avenue has installed a public drinking fountain on his lawn, where ice-cold water is furnished for thirsty pedestrians. This is the only fountain of its kind in Washington, and it is certainly appreciated by the youngsters of the vicinity. Photo by Pridgen, staff photographer.

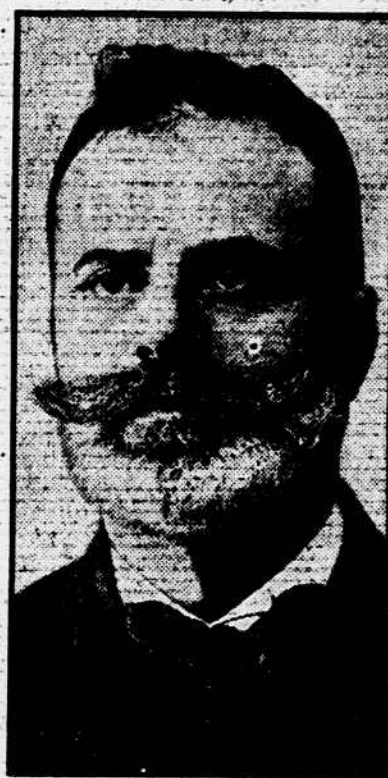

President Harding and Secretary Christian leaving the meeting of the budget committee yesterday. This was the first meeting of the committee under the administration of Brig. Gen. Lord. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

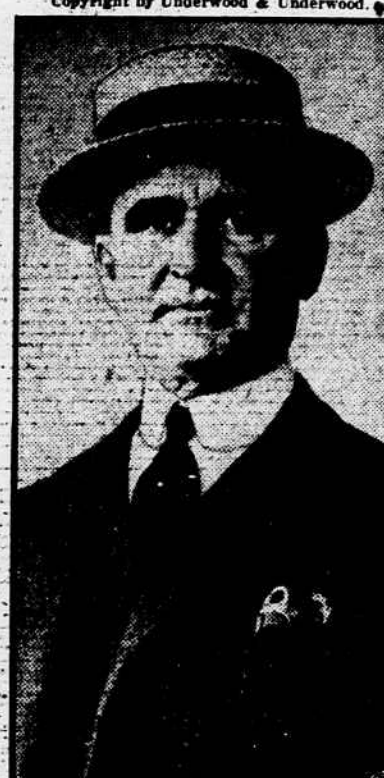

This monster turtle was made into soup for Chief Justice Taft's dinner while he was in London. It was served on the Fourth of July by the American Society, with the Chief Justice as the guest of honor. The turtle, which was shipped from India, weighed 400 pounds. Wide World Photo.

Czechoslovakian President, Thomas G. Masaryk, sees maneuvers of the republic's army through a pair of army rangefinders. The president and his cabinet attended the recent military display. Wide World Photo.

M. Protopapadakis, Greek premier, who heads the new coalition cabinet. The ministry gives the government a strong backing in parliament. Copyright by Keystone.

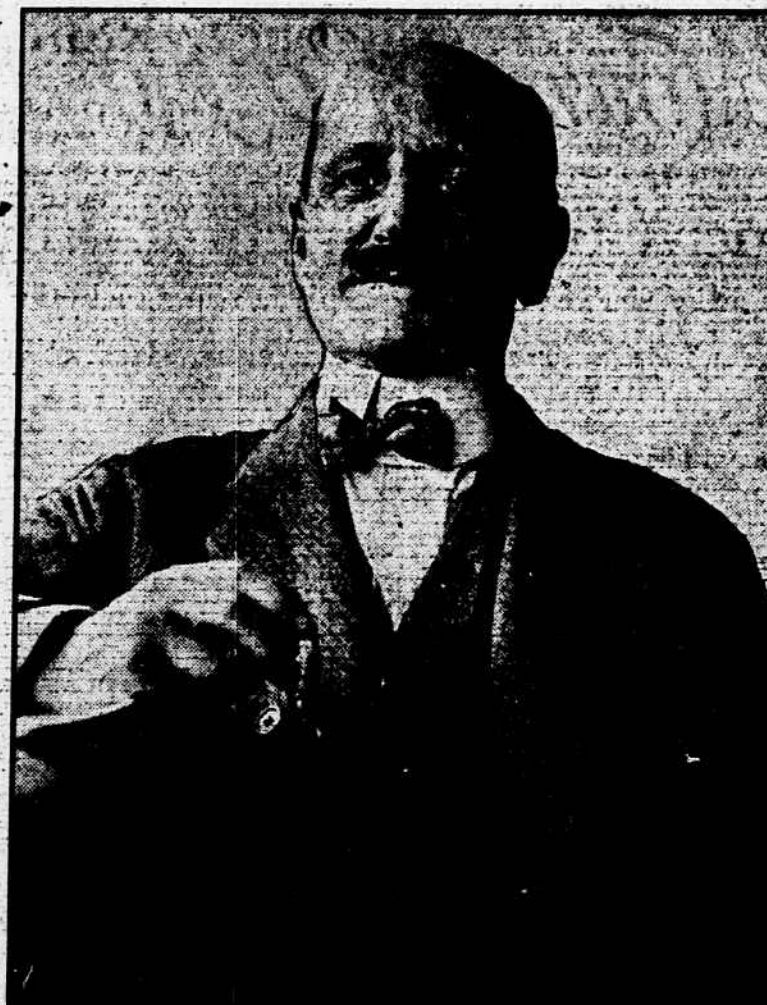

Count D. A. Costantini, special adviser to the Italian embassy, photographed on board the S. S. Berengaria just before he sailed for Europe. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Clara Butt, the noted English singer, blacks boots for charity at a garden party given on the Chelsea Hospital grounds, London. Her husband, Kennerley Rumford, is seated in the chair. Wide World Photo.

Clarence Charest, new tennis champion of the District of Columbia. Charest has only one hand, but this handicap did not prevent him from winning three straight sets from Maj. Yencken (at left) of the British embassy. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

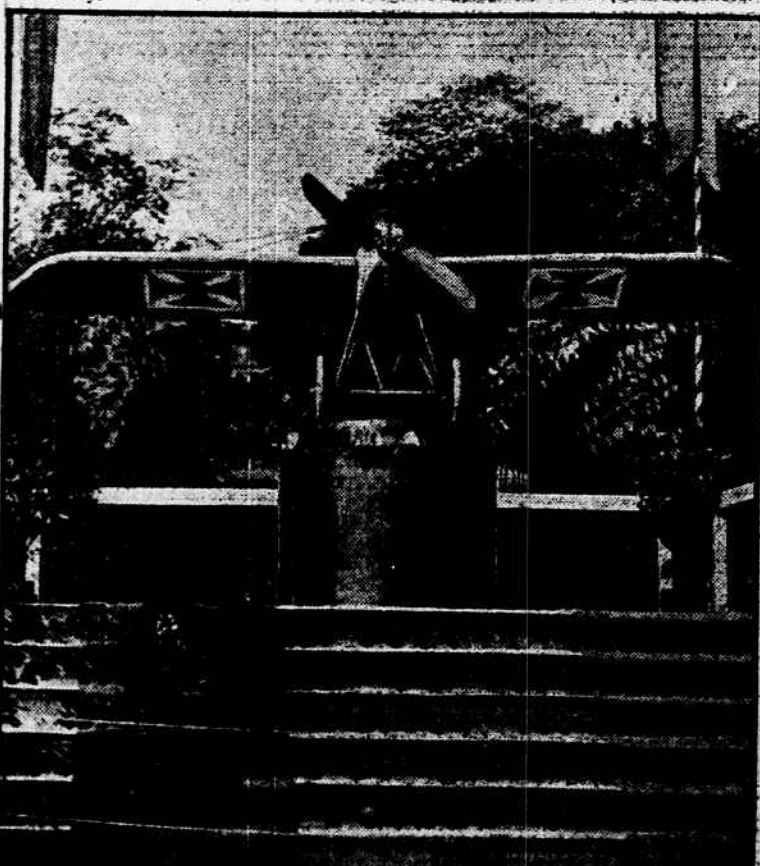

A. Muller-Ury, noted painter, who sailed yesterday to paint a portrait of the Pope. The sittings will be held in the Vatican and will cover several weeks. Mr. Muller-Ury also painted the preceding Pope. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Princess supervises noble farmerettes. The photo shows Princess Eudopia, daughter of former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, enthroned on a potato truck and overlooking the work of noble farmerettes toiling on a Bavarian farm. Wide World Photo.

S. W. Newton of Richmond, Va., the new golf champion of Virginia. He won the 1922 Virginia state golf tournament at Hot Springs a few days ago. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Unique air memorial erected in Colma, where were built the most of Germany's airplanes used in the world war. The miniature standard Colma type of plane is inscribed with the names of German pilots. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Thousand attend Rudolf Minister Rathenau's funeral in Berlin. Photo shows the Berlin police experiencing great difficulty in keeping back the crowds in front of the reichstag, where the body of the assassinated minister lay in state on June 27, attended by deputies and diplomatic corps. Copyright by P. & A. Photos.

Prof. George H. Peters of the United States Naval Observatory photographs the heavens by use of the world's only electrically driven slide photographic telescope. The device is used to keep a particular star in the same position on the photographic plate. Copyright by P. & A. Photos.